

Alaska State Library
Historical Collections

Guide to Collection

Gastineau Channel Centennial Association; Juneau, Alaska

Records, ca. 1964- 1984

MS 4-3

HISTORICAL NOTE

In preparing for the 1967 Alaska Purchase Centennial, various Associations were formed to coordinate plans celebrating the event. This file includes reports and newspaper accounts of the numerous activities of the Gastineau Channel Centennial Association in Juneau, Alaska.

INVENTORY

- Folder 1. Newspaper clipping file of state and local Centennial activities.
- Folder 2. Centennial Reports: 10 programs aired on KINY.
- Folder 3. Centennial Projects.
1. "Cornerstone Contents": material enclosed in the cornerstone of the Alaska State Museum. It includes a short history of the museum.
 2. Description of the Centennial Potlatch Spoon.
 3. "Century Notes": Issue No. 41.
 4. "Historical Landmark" reports: These reports contain short historical information on various landmarks in Juneau, some of which were marked with plaques explaining historical significance.
 5. "Schematic 'Walk-Through' for U. S. Exhibits" prepared in celebration of the centennial.
 6. "The Lucky Lady of Auk Village": an Indian story by Andrew J. Wanamaker.
 7. Material relating to activities of the Fine Arts Committee and the establishment of an Alaska State Council on the Arts.
 8. Formal invitations and programs:
 - Mayor's Centennial Breakfast
 - "North to the Future": program for the Alaska Centennial Luncheon.
 - Laying of the cornerstone for the Alaska State Centennial Museum Building.
 - Dedication/Open House of the Alaska State Centennial Museum Building.
 9. Various calendars and agendas.
- Folder 4. Minutes of meetings, by-laws, centennial project planning, etc. 1964-1966.